English II is designed to offer the student a wide range of literary selections from all of the various genre and media. The topics will have some correlation to historical data and trends. The student will improve and refine their abilities to communicate with various audiences and for varying purposes. The course content will include writing, reading, listening, communicating, studying various literary forms, and researching/finding information. In addition, students will work to prepare for the EOCT, SLOs, and post-secondary skills. As a course requirement, students must complete various projects assigned throughout the school year. Such projects should be completed in the best scholarly manner commensurate with the student's ability. The class is designed to be academically
