

Parent/Student Guide to help support the Provision of Accommodations during Distance Learning

Things you can do:

- First and foremost, focus on what is most important: the health, safety and emotional well-being of you and your loved ones.
- Give yourself and your student a break! Nothing is as it was, and change is very hard! Practice patience, compassion and understanding.
-