District Custodians Complete Certification Training for Comprehensive Standards Improving Health and Safety, Cleanliness at all Schools

Over the past two weeks, Aiken County Public School District custodians have trained with industry-proven methods bent on improving the health and safety of students and staff and the appearance and cleanliness of schools.

The training, which involved three days of hands-on learning and two days of classroom instruction, is part of the Distric a standardized and establish best cleaning practices.

The week-long training regimen was led by Augusta Janitorial Supplies. Training took place at Ai Mildred Cullum, who serves as lead custodian at South Aiken High School, said the techniques she learned during the training will pay immediate dividends.

Ms. Cullum commented following the hands-on portion of the training. (The new process) saves time, because where it took an hour or two to do something, now it takes 45 minutes and it is done right and

The new cleaning procedures follow guidelines set by the International Sanitary smaintenance director, said improvements to high-traffic

areas such as floor